Opening Sentences

Opening Hymn 769 (see page 6)

For Everyone Born

FOR EVERYONE BORN

Prayer of Confession

Merciful God,
in your gracious presence
we confess our sin and the sin of this world.
Although Christ is among us as our peace,
we are a people divided against ourselves
as we cling to the values of a broken world.
The profit and pleasures we pursue
lay waste the land and pollute the seas.
The fears and jealousies that we harbor
set neighbor against neighbor
and nation against nation.
We abuse your good gifts of imagination and freedom,
of intellect and reason,
and have turned them into bonds of oppression.
Lord, have mercy upon us;
heal and forgive us.
Set us free to serve you in the world
as agents of your reconciling love in Jesus Christ.

silent prayer

Holy One, in your mercy. Hear our prayer.

Declaration of Forgiveness

Believe the Good News. In Jesus Christ we are forgiven.

Response

Glo - ry be to the Fa - ther, and to the Son, and to the Ho - ly Ghost; as it was in the be - gin - ning, is now, and ev - er shall be,
world with - out end. A - men, a - men.

GLORIA PATRI (Greatorex)

Words of Peace

In Christ, God is reconciling the whole world,
and God is entrusting to us the message of reconciliation.
We are ambassadors for Jesus Christ. God's appeal is being made through us.
Peace be with you. Peace be with all.

Gospel Reading

Matthew 10:40-42

Soft Mist Is Rising

Robert A. Hobby
(b. 1962)

Soft mist is rising, new dawn is breaking,
gold comes with sunrise to banish the grey;
birds greet the morning, singing glad praises,
thanking the Lord God, who gave us Today!

Each hour of daylight brings its own beauty,
and so our hearts sing, at work and at play,
as God's creation echoes his glory,
we thank the Lord God, who gave us Today!

When stars are shining, bright in the night sky,
our bodies' call to rest we will obey;
knowing God loves us, we'll sleep in safety,
thanking the Lord God, who gave us Today!

Most High, Omnipotent, Good Lord

LUKKASON • Calvin Hampton
(1938–1984)

Most High, omnipotent, good Lord, to thee be ceaseless praise outpoured,
and blessing without measure, from thee alone all creatures came;
no one is worthy thee to name.

My Lord be praised by brother sun who through the skies his course doth run,
and shines in brilliant splendor; with brightness he doth fill the day,
and signifies thy boundless sway.

My Lord be praised by sister moon and all the stars, that with her soon will point the glittering heavens. Let wind and air and cloud and calm and weathers all, repeat the psalm.

By sister water be thou blessed, most humble, useful, precious, chaste;
be praised by brother fire; jocund is he, robust and bright,
and strong to lighten all the night

By mother earth my Lord be praised; governed by thee she hath upraised what for our life is needful. Sustained by thee, through every hour, she bringeth forth fruit, herb, and flower.

My Lord be praised by those who prove in free forgivingness their love, nor shrink from tribulation. Happy, who peaceably endure;
with thee, Lord, their reward is sure.

For death our sister, praised be, from whom no one alive can flee.
Woe to the unprepared! But blest be they who do thy will
and follow they commandments still.

Most High, omnipotent, good Lord, to thee be ceaseless praise outpoured, and blessing without measure. Let creatures all give thanks to thee,
and serve in great humility.

— words by Francis of Assisi (1182–1226)
translated by Howard Chandler Robbins (1876–1952)

Affirmation of Faith

from the Confession of Belhar

We believe that God has entrusted the church

 with the message of reconciliation in and through Jesus Christ;
 that the church is called to be the salt of the earth and the light of the world,
 that the church is called blessed because it is a peacemaker,
 that the church is witness both by word and by deed
 to the new heaven and the new earth in which righteousness dwells, that God's life-giving Word and Spirit has conquered the powers of sin and death,
 and therefore also of irreconciliation and hatred, bitterness and enmity, that God's life-giving Word and Spirit will enable the church to live in a new obedience which can open new possibilities of life for society and the world. Amen.

Prayers of the People

The Lord's Prayer

Our Father, who art in heaven,
 hallowed be Thy name.
 Thy kingdom come,
 thy will be done on earth as it is in heaven.
 Give us this day our daily bread,
 and forgive us our debts,
 as we forgive our debtors.
 And lead us not into temptation,
 but deliver us from evil;
 for Thine is the kingdom, and the power,
 and the glory forever. Amen.

MUSIC NOTES

Today's organ voluntaries come from Firm Foundations: Variations on an American Hymn Tune, composed in May 2012 by Joel Martinson, who is Director of Music Ministries and Organist at Episcopal Church of the Transfiguration in Dallas, Texas, where he coordinates a vibrant musical life, including choral and instrumental ensembles for all ages, and a very active music series. A product of two generations of clergy musician families, Martinson has served Episcopal, Roman Catholic, Lutheran, Presbyterian and Reformed Jewish houses of worship, and has written hundreds of published works for organ, choir, and instruments. • This morning's solos both speak of the beauty of all God's creation and life. Soft Mist Is Rising is a setting of a text by English-American poet Rae Whitney, originally composed for SATB voices and organ in 2011 by Robert Hobby, arranged in 2020 for solo voice and organ (the version heard in today's service). Most High, Omnipotent, Good Lord was composed in the mid-1970s by Calvin Hampton, who was renowned as an organist and composer for organ. The late Eric Routley, an authority on church music, cited Hampton as "the greatest living composer of hymn tunes." This morning's solo is one of those hymn tunes — LUKKASON — originally intended for congregational singing. Born in Kittaning, Pennsylvania and raised in Ravenna, Ohio, Hampton was a resident of New York City from 1963 until his death from AIDS at age 45 in 1984. Hampton was a distinguished recitalist, specializing in 19th- and 20th-century repertoire. He was famous for his weekly Friday Midnight concerts at Calvary Church in New York City, which he offered from 1974 to 1983. The text of Most High, Omnipotent, Good Lord is a translation by Howard Chandler Robbins of Francis of Assisi's Canticle of the Sun, believed to have been written by St. Francis in 1224. Francis' Canticle of the Sun is also the basis for the text of the hymn All Creatures of Our God and King found at No. 15 in the Glory to God hymnal.

As we continue to assess and monitor coronavirus data and the recommendations of local health leaders and then filter that information through our particular context at St. Philip, we remain convinced that we should continue to gather only online for Sunday worship for the coming weeks. However, we are now able to have a limited number of people attend in-person our 11:00 a.m. daily prayer service (Monday-Saturday). Currently, we have a limit of five persons per day, beginning with Monday's service. Advance registration is required. For more information on conditions and to register click here. The link will change weekly and is only available in the daily emails from the pastors. We hope that the opportunity to again worship in the sacred space of our Sanctuary will be a source of comfort and hope. Depending on circumstances, we can expand the number of worshippers per day as we go forward. If you have trouble with the registration or are not online, please call Lorrie Castle (832-262-1244).
